

Mould-shaped soap with chondrus flakes - 100g box of 30 pieces

Exfoliating soap with Chondrus Crispus Crispus, flakes harvested in Brittany. The handmade 100g green soap comes in the form of a shell.

Manufacturer: Nature et Mer

Reference:007861

Loyalty points offered: 4

Mould-shaped soap with chondrus flakes - 100g box of 30 pieces

Chondrus exfoliating soap

100 gr - Ref: CSC

Seaweed soap is an essential part of everyday life. Whether it is in the form of laundry detergent, detergent, shampoo, shower gel or simply soap, it is an integral part of our daily lives!

He is said to have magical powers:

The one to wash or remove stains,

The one to hydrate

The one to smell good

If it has long suffered from a bad reputation (soap damages and scours the skin...), we now know that combined with a well moisturizing body care, soap is the most sensual and natural of daily care.

No other beauty product comes so close to us. The seaweed soap glides on the skin, marries the full and hollow parts of our body, leaving a velvety and fragrant trail that only the most intimate can breathe.

Conservation of seaweed soap

Once started, a soap (traditional or surgras) can be kept for about twenty-four months.

Perfectly stable, it ages well and loses none of its qualities from one year to the next as long as it is well preserved, except in stagnant water.

Ingredients :

Aqua (water), propylene glycol, sodium stearate, glycerin, sucrose, sodium laurate, sodium laureth sulfate, Sorbitol, sodium lauryl sulfate, silica, parfum, chondrus crispus powder, sodium chloride, stearic acid, lauric acid, pentasodium pentetate, tetrasodium etidronate, butyphenyl methylpropional, benzyl salicylate, citronellol, linalool, CI61570, CI19140, CI77891.

Net Weight: 100G

Link to the product