Vitamins A and E as well as the blue pigment phycocyanin, present in spirulina, are powerful antioxidants. By capturing free radicals, they help to fight against skin ageing. Gamma linoleic acid, an essential fatty acid contained in spirulina, brings suppleness and elasticity to the skin. Linoleic acid has regenerative properties. Chlorophyll, the green pigment in spirulina, has soothing and healing properties. This pigment helps to naturally combat certain ailments, such as eczema or psoriasis.

Rich in nutrients : Nourishes and gives tone and radiance to all skin types.

Repairing effect : Stimulating and regenerating action of the skin's elastin.

Anti-oxidant and detoxifying : Clears the skin of toxins.

Moisturising : Improves the suppleness and elasticity of the skin, even the driest.

Calming : Helps healing and calms irritation.

This soap is suitable for all skin types.
